RWA Job Sign

We have signs which we display at our projects under construction. This particular design was inspired by Marcel Breuer's 1926 Wassily Chair - a structural frame with subordinate members, in our case sign panels, stretched between.

The first iteration of the sign in 1986 had a seven-digit phone number on it! The latest is notable for the exclusion of a phone number, but with a website address and a QR Code.

If your smart-phone is equipped with the proper app, taking a photo of the QR Code will connect you to our website. Amazing.
